

Cape Argus Pick n Pay MTB Challenge 2012 - Sunday

Routes, descriptions and profiles

65km

If the 52km sounds tough, the thought of a 65km distance over similar terrain should be enough of an indication that this route is intended for advanced riders.

In fact, this is the route used by the Grape Escape as its final stage in 2011.

The race follows exactly the same course as the 52km route up to the 48km mark before riders do an additional loop on the north eastern sections of Boschendal. The added section is flat compared to the preceding main loop, but with high temperatures being the norm coupled with fatigue, it quickly becomes challenging.

Total elevation: 1384m
