

Lance Armstrong, the 7th time Tour de France winner, has confirmed that he will be riding in next year's Tour de France for Team RadioShack, but said for certain that it will be his last. He will not be competing in the 2011 Tour de France, as his focus in competitive riding will follow a different program. This will allow him to compete and see places he has not enjoyed before.

TOUR DE France 2010 TOUR DE LANCE ULTIMATE!

Dear Rider,

Come and join Cycle Lab and Malcolm Lange on a cyclists dream holiday. Malcolm, who has raced both nationally and internationally, has won virtually every local race at least once (over 400 race victories like Cape Argus Pick n Pay, Pick n Pay 94.7 Cycle Challenge, Pick n Pay Amashovashova to name a few). This great sprinter will be your lead rider during your trip. The tour is about experiencing:

- The live excitement in watching the Tour riders past you by on some of the most grueling hills in the world.
- Experiencing and social riding at your own pace and taking in some of Frances best riding terrain and scenery which includes some of the most great & mythical climbs like Mont Ventoux, Col du Soulor, Col d'Aubisque and the mighty Col du Tourmalet, whilst having the crowds cheer you on to the top.
- Savouring French café, food and local beers.
- And of course – Relaxation. Do not forget your swimming costumes!

On this tour you will see all the Pyrenees stages as well as some of the picturesque stages in the beautiful region of Provence. Non riders are welcome and will be accommodated for. Our tour has been designed with the minimum amount of hotel changes: we shall spend 3 nights near Avignon, 4 nights in Lourdes. A total of days (7 nights and 2 days travelling) from the 15th of July to the 23rd of July 2010 (inclusive). Price per person sharing on a bed & breakfast basis: R 27 500.
